CARBON MARKET WORKSHOP AGENDA

OwniOwning forest, range, or farm land is an increasingly complex endeavor. The buzz about carbon sequestration, greenhouse gas emissions and carbon markets is growing louder, but often lacks clarity. This workshop will give landowners and managers an opportunity to learn about the realities of emerging carbon markets, how carbon sequestration and greenhouse gas emissions relate to your property, and hear from a landowner with real world experience marketing and selling carbon credits.

Learn how the discussion of carbon applies to Inland Northwest farmers, ranchers, and forest owners.

Welcome 10:00 am
